FROM TRIAL TO PURCHASE, MARKETING COMPANY DISCOVERS THE WORLD OF SIEM

Share your thoughts with the IT World

We analyzed three different SIEM tools and were convinced Fluency Security was the next generation SIEM tool for our company during our trial with them. The amount of data captured is substantial from events and network sources resulting in reports that are invaluable to our IT team. An additional benefit is the support for compliance certifications.

A combination of factors convinced us that Fluency was the right choice:

- A recommendation from another company
- A proof of concept trial
- Their continuous Customer Support
- Overall Product compatibility

IT support at Fluency is AMAZING!

Prior to the trials, we had noticed network related issues that were concerning which drove the need for a SIEM. Fluency was able to quickly identify holes in our networks that needed to be fixed, to issues with systems that needed changed. After selecting Fluency Security we again worked with them to add SentinelOne Complete with their Hermes licenses. After deploying we were no longer blind to what was happening with our work from home team members as the combination of tools provided us comfort that suspicious activity and malware would be stopped at the endpoints. This is critical with employees working from home or remote locations outside of our corporate firewall.

The behavioral analysis built into Fluency Security is powerful and generates alerts and reports that help us keep our infrastructure safe. Threat levels are scored in a way that reduces false positives allowing our analyst to quickly deal with real threats. From data analysts to our C-level the resulting reports keep our business informed of what's happening.
